
The Housewife's Guide to Alien Invasions
KEEP CALM AND SERVE THE CASSEROLE HOMEMAKING
60 SKILLS

THE HOUSEWIFE'S GUIDE TO ALIEN INVASIONS

EX LIBRIS

This book belongs to

_____
__

and their household, _____

The Housewife's Guide to

ALIEN INVASIONS

60 Essential Skills for the Modern Homemaker When the Saucers Land

AN ILLUSTRATED HANDBOOK FOR KEEPING HOUSE WHILE THE GALAXY COMES TO CALL

FUN BOOKS · HOME EDITION · 2026

The Housewife's Guide to Alien Invasions: 60 Essential Skills for the Modern Homemaker When the Saucers Land. Fun Books Home Edition, 2026.

Written and illustrated as an original work. The text and pictures in this book were created from scratch for this edition and are not copied from any other publication.

Please read before using this book. This is a work of good-natured humor. Every housewife, husband, visitor, saucer and Galactic Overlord in it is made up, and any resemblance to your own neighbors (from this planet or any other) is a coincidence. Please do not try the tractor-beam, shrink-ray or freeze-ray advice at home. Do try the casserole.

Printing tips. This book is laid out on US Letter (8.5 x 11 in) pages. Print double-sided, “flip on long edge”, at 100% scale. For a book that lies flat on the kitchen table, ask a copy shop for spiral or comb binding with a clear front and a heavy back cover.

Made with care for every homemaker who has ever set a table for more guests than she expected.

For every housewife who kept her head when everyone around her lost theirs.

CONTENTS

Introduction: How to Use This Book 11

1. The Day the Saucers Landed 13

- Spotting a Flying Saucer 14
- Telling an Alien From the Milkman 15
- Finding a Crop Circle in the Petunias 16
- Understanding the Radio Bulletin 17
- Is That Really Your Husband? 18
- Keeping the Household Calm 19

2. Saucer-Proofing the Home 20

- Hanging Tinfoil Curtains 21
- Stocking the Invasion Pantry 22
- Making the Basement Shelter Cozy 23
- Planting an Alien-Repelling Marigold Border 24
- Ray-Proofing the Good China 25
- Anchoring the Station Wagon Against Tractor Beams 26
- Keeping the Lawn Saucer-Free 27
- Making Your House Look Boring From Above 28

3. Entertaining Visitors From Beyond 29

- Answering the Door to an Alien 30
- Setting the Table for a Guest With Seven Arms 31
- Making Small Talk With a Martian 32
- Hosting a Bridge Party With Visitors 33
- Seating a Guest Who Won't Fit on the Sofa 34
- Serving Coffee to Something With No Mouth 35
- Saying Goodbye Without Being Abducted 36

4. Feeding the Invaders 37

- Tuna Casserole for Forty Mouths 38
- The Peacekeeping Green Gelatin Mold 39
- Meatloaf Diplomacy 40
- Packing a Lunch for a Long Space Voyage 41

Baking a Welcome-to-Earth Cake . . . 42
Feeding a Visitor Who Eats Metal . . . 43

5. Housekeeping in a Time of Invasion . . . 44
Getting Alien Slime Out of the Carpet . . . 45
Laundering a Space Suit . . . 46
Vacuuming Up a Very Small Alien (and Letting It Out) . . . 47
Polishing a Flying Saucer . . . 48
Defrosting the Kitchen After a Freeze Ray . . . 49
Putting a Many-Armed Visitor to Work . . . 50
Getting Ray-Gun Scorch Marks Off the Wallpaper . . . 51

6. Children, Pets and Little Green Men . . . 52
When Junior Brings One Home . . . 53
Babysitting a Baby From Beyond . . . 54
Walking a Space Pet . . . 55
Calming a Dog Who Barks at Saucers . . . 56
Explaining Aliens at Bedtime . . . 57
Sewing a Halloween Costume Nobody Will Question . . . 58

7. Out and About . . . 59
Grocery Shopping During an Invasion . . . 60
Getting Your Hair Set Next to a Martian . . . 61
Taking a Visitor to the Public Library . . . 62
Bringing a Visitor to the PTA Meeting . . . 63
A Church Picnic With Unexpected Guests . . . 64
League Night With a Tentacled Bowler . . . 65
Buying a Hat for a Head Shaped Like That . . . 66

8. Unusual Situations . . . 67
Being Beamed Up With Your Hair Still Set . . . 68
Escaping a Tractor Beam With the Vacuum Cleaner . . . 69
Living Through a Shrink Ray . . . 70
When a Forty-Foot Visitor Sits on the House . . . 71
Talking Down the Galactic Overlord . . . 72
Fixing a Saucer That Crashed in the Garden . . . 73
Visiting the Mothership . . . 74

9. Peace Between the Planets 75
Throwing a Welcome-to-the-Neighborhood Potluck 76
Teaching an Alien to Dance at the Sock Hop 77
Swapping Recipes Across the Galaxy 78
Hosting a Plastic Container Party for the Visitors 79
Writing to a Pen Pal on Mars 80
Waving Goodbye at the Launch Pad 81

Appendix 82
A. Field Guide to Visitors 82
B. Feeding Chart 82
C. Checklists 83
D. Household Remedies for Space Stains 84
E. Handy Invasion Conversions 84
F. Household Invasion Card 85
G. Glossary 86
H. Where to Learn More 86

Index 87

My Skills Log 91

Notes 93

INTRODUCTION

How to use this book

There was a time, not so long ago, when the most alarming thing to land on an American lawn was the morning paper. Those days are over. Whether it started with a strange hum over the backyard, a crop circle in the petunias or a milkman with three eyes, the visitors are here, and they seem to be staying for supper.

Most households are not ready. Nobody teaches invasion manners in home economics. Cookbooks say nothing about tentacles. The radio only makes it worse. This book is here to help. It gathers everything a sensible homemaker needs to know to stay calm, keep house, feed the guests and still have dinner on the table by six.

What you'll find inside. Sixty skills in nine chapters, each on a single page laid out the same way: a picture for every step, a short explanation of why it matters, a materials panel with what you'll need, and a notes panel with tips and the most important warnings. Colored tabs on the edge of every page tell you which chapter you're in, so you can find the right page quickly, even while a saucer hums over the house.

How to use it. Don't wait for an emergency. Read the first chapter tonight, before the first saucer lands. Hang the tinfoil curtains. Freeze a tuna casserole. Practice opening the front door with a calm smile. Each skill you practice now is one less scream later.

Start with the basics. If the visitors have already arrived, begin with Chapter 1 (the signs), the invasion pantry in Chapter 2, answering the door in Chapter 3 and the green gelatin mold in Chapter 4. Those four alone will put your household well ahead of the Hendersons, who have been hiding in the coat closet since Tuesday.

The appendix at the back gathers the charts and checklists you'll reach for most: a field guide to visitors, a feeding chart, a list of household remedies for space stains, handy invasion conversions, emergency checklists, a household invasion card, a glossary, and a log for the skills your household has mastered.

A word on kindness. Most of the visitors are not here to conquer anybody. They are curious, a little lost and very, very hungry, much like the rest of us. This book is about keeping a happy home while the galaxy comes to call. Watch for the boxes marked Important, and remember that the best defense in any invasion is a calm voice and a warm casserole.

CHAPTERS AT A GLANCE

CHAPTER	WHAT IT COVERS	SKILLS
1. The Day the Saucers Landed	How to recognize an invasion before the casserole gets cold	6
2. Saucer-Proofing the Home	Making your house cozy, safe and slightly shiny	8
3. Entertaining Visitors From Beyond	Gracious hospitality for guests with more than two arms	7
4. Feeding the Invaders	Recipes and kitchen wisdom for appetites from outer space	6
5. Housekeeping in a Time of Invasion	Getting slime out of the shag and other modern problems	7
6. Children, Pets and Little Green Men	What to do when the kids bring one home	6
7. Out and About	Shopping, errands and the beauty parlor during an invasion	7
8. Unusual Situations	Tractor beams, shrink rays and other household emergencies	7
9. Peace Between the Planets	Making friends across the galaxy, one casserole at a time	6

CHAPTER ONE

1

THE DAY THE SAUCERS LANDED

How to recognize an invasion before the casserole gets cold

It usually begins on a Tuesday, right between the breakfast dishes and the ironing. The milkman is late, the radio is crackling, and something large and shiny has parked itself on the Hendersons' lawn. Do not panic. A housewife who has survived a church bake sale can survive anything from outer space. This chapter helps you spot the signs early, keep your head and your hairdo, and get supper on the table regardless.

IN THIS CHAPTER

01 Spotting a Flying Saucer
02 Telling an Alien From the Milkman
03 Finding a Crop Circle in the Petunias
04 Understanding the Radio Bulletin
05 Is That Really Your Husband?
06 Keeping the Household Calm

HOW TO

SPOTTING A FLYING SAUCER

SKILL 01 · THE DAY THE SAUCERS LANDED · 5 MINUTES · EASY

MATERIALS

- Your reading glasses

- A pair of opera glasses

- A cup of strong coffee

- A pie tin (for comparison)

- A notepad and pencil

Before you telephone your sister, be sure. Many a housewife has woken the whole street over a weather balloon, a pie tin on the clothesline or a very shiny hubcap. A genuine saucer passes five simple tests.

1

Look Up From the Dishes

Most sightings happen at the kitchen window. Dry your hands before pointing.

2

Compare With a Pie Tin

Hold a pie tin at arm's length. If the thing in the sky is bigger and humming, it is a saucer.

3

Check for Blinking Lights

Saucers blink in colors no American appliance has ever used. Write them down.

4

Listen for the Hum

A saucer hums like a refrigerator that is thinking very hard.

5

Watch for Little Visitors

If a hatch opens and something with eyes on stalks waves at you, the matter is settled.

6

Take Notes for the Bridge Club

Time, color, size and number of eyes. The girls will want details.

NOTES

A saucer that lands in the begonias has no manners, but it may still be friendly.

IMPORTANT

Never wave a dish towel at a saucer. In some galaxies that is a declaration of war.

HOW TO

TELLING AN ALIEN FROM THE MILKMAN

SKILL 02 · THE DAY THE SAUCERS LANDED · 10 MINUTES · EASY

Visitors from beyond often try to blend in, and the milk delivery is a favorite disguise. Fortunately there are ways to tell the difference without being rude to either.

1

Count the Eyes

The milkman has two. If you count past three, do not sign for anything.

2

Check the Bottles

Real milk is white. Milk that glows green came from much farther than the dairy.

3

Look at the Truck

A milk truck has wheels. A milk truck that floats did not come from the dairy.

MATERIALS

A fresh bottle of milk

A magnifying glass

Your best company manners

A doormat

A nickel for the tip

4

Mind the Footprints

Muddy boot prints are the milkman. Slimy suction-cup prints are not.

5

Ask About the Weather

The milkman will say 'Looks like rain.' A visitor will say 'Which sun?'

NOTES

Order an extra quart. Visitors are always thirsty after a long trip.

IMPORTANT

Do not shut the door on a tentacle. It upsets them, and it is very hard to get out of the paint.

6 Tip Them Both

Whoever it is, a nickel and a smile keep the deliveries coming.

HOW TO

FINDING A CROP CIRCLE IN THE PETUNIAS

SKILL 03 · THE DAY THE SAUCERS LANDED · 30 MINUTES · EASY

Visitors like to leave a calling card, and a perfect circle pressed into the flower bed is their way of saying 'We were here, and we liked your garden.'

MATERIALS

- Garden gloves

- A trowel

- A ball of string

- A watering can

- Petunia seedlings (for repairs)

1

Look Out the Back Window

If the flower bed now makes a pattern you could see from an airplane, you have had company.

2

Walk the Rings

Step carefully along the edge and count the rings. More rings means a bigger saucer.

3

Measure With String

Pin one end in the middle and walk around. This is also how you plan a very round rose bed.

4

Check for Scorch Marks

A light singeing means a gentle landing. A big black ring means a student driver.

5

Look for the Gift

Visitors often leave something behind: a glowing pebble, a strange seed, a single sock.

6

Replant With Pride

Fill in the rings with fresh petunias. The neighbors will think you planned it.

NOTES

Photograph the circle before you replant. The garden club will never believe you otherwise.

IMPORTANT

If the circle is still warm, wait for it to cool. So should you.

HOW TO

UNDERSTANDING THE RADIO BULLETIN

SKILL 04 · THE DAY THE SAUCERS LANDED · 15 MINUTES · EASY

When the regular program is interrupted 'for an important announcement', the housewife who listens calmly will know exactly what to do, and the one who screams will miss the recipe at the end.

1

Turn It Up

Switch off the mixer and raise the volume. Bulletins are always read very fast.

2

Write Down the Key Words

Saucer. Landing. Elm Street. Remain calm. Underline the street.

3

Ignore the Shouting

The announcer may be excited. That is his job, not yours.

MATERIALS

A wooden table radio

A cup of tea

A pencil and pad

A comfortable chair

A spare radio tube

4

Listen for Instructions

If they say 'stay indoors', put the kettle on. If they say 'welcome them', put on lipstick.

5

Check Out the Window

See whether the bulletin matches the view. It usually does.

NOTES

Keep a spare radio tube in the kitchen drawer. Invasions always happen the day one burns out.

IMPORTANT

Never telephone the radio station to ask if it's real. Forty other housewives already have.

6 Carry On With Supper

Bulletins come and go. Pot roast waits for no one.

HOW TO

IS THAT REALLY YOUR HUSBAND?

SKILL 05 · THE DAY THE SAUCERS LANDED · 10 MINUTES · MEDIUM

Some visitors are shy and prefer to borrow a familiar shape. If your husband comes home on time, compliments the meatloaf and offers to do the dishes, it is wise to check.

MATERIALS

- His favorite slippers

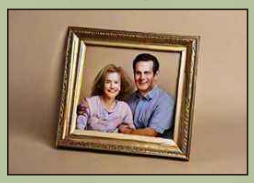

- The evening newspaper

- A plate of meatloaf

- A family photograph

- The office telephone number 1

Watch Him Come In

Does he hang his hat on the hook? Real husbands never do.

2

Offer the Slippers

A real husband sighs with joy. A visitor tries to eat them.

3

Check Behind the Newspaper

If three eyes on stalks are peeking over the sports page, you have your answer.

4

Serve the Meatloaf

Your husband will ask for ketchup. A visitor will ask what meat is.

5

Compare With the Photograph

Hold up the wedding picture. Antennae are a giveaway.

6

Call the Office

If your real husband is still at the office, simply set another place at the table.

NOTES

A visitor who does the dishes may be worth keeping until Thursday.

IMPORTANT

Do not test him by asking him to take out the trash. Neither version will.

HOW TO

KEEPING THE HOUSEHOLD CALM

SKILL 06 · THE DAY THE SAUCERS LANDED · 30 MINUTES · EASY

The children shriek, the dog barks and your husband wants to drive straight to the saucer. The housewife's job is to restore order, and a plate of cookies does more than any army.

1

Blow the Whistle

One short blast. Everyone stops, including the visitor.

2

Count the Children

Make sure you have the same number you started with. Check under the beds.

3

Put On a Record

Soft music soothes children, dogs and creatures from Neptune alike.

MATERIALS

-  A plate of warm cookies
-  A whistle
-  A pitcher of lemonade
-  The family's favorite record
-  A cool washcloth

4

Pass the Cookies

Nobody screams with a mouth full of oatmeal raisin.

5

Use Your Telephone Voice

Low, sweet and firm. It works on the PTA and it works on Martians.

NOTES

Hide your husband's car keys for the first hour. He means well, but he will want to go and look.

IMPORTANT

Never let the children name the visitor until you know whether it is staying.

6 ### Rest With a Washcloth

Once peace returns, lie on the sofa with a cool cloth for exactly ten minutes.

CHAPTER TWO

2

SAUCER-PROOFING THE HOME

Making your house cozy, safe and slightly shiny

A well-kept home is the best defense against anything, from muddy boots to death rays. With a few rolls of aluminum foil, a well-stocked pantry and the right curtains, any housewife can turn her split-level into a fortress that still looks lovely for company. Best of all, most of what you need is already in the kitchen drawer.

IN THIS CHAPTER

07 Hanging Tinfoil Curtains
08 Stocking the Invasion Pantry
09 Making the Basement Shelter Cozy
10 Planting an Alien-Repelling Marigold Border
11 Ray-Proofing the Good China
12 Anchoring the Station Wagon Against Tractor Beams
13 Keeping the Lawn Saucer-Free
14 Making Your House Look Boring From Above

HOW TO

HANGING TINFOIL CURTAINS

SKILL 07 · SAUCER-PROOFING THE HOME · 1 HOUR · EASY

Scientists agree that aluminum foil confuses alien instruments. Housewives agree that it brightens a room. Everyone wins.

1

Measure the Windows

Foil curtains should reach the sill. Shorter ones let the rays in.

2

Unroll the Foil

Pull out long, smooth sheets. Wrinkles are fine; they scatter signals.

3

Pin It to the Rod

Use clothespins, spaced like a nice pleat.

4

Add a Ruffle

A foil ruffle along the top makes it look intentional.

5

Test the Shine

Close the curtains. If the visitor outside squints and turns away, it works.

6

Admire Your Work

Step back and enjoy. They also keep the sofa from fading.

NOTES

Save the cardboard tubes. The children can make telescopes to watch for more saucers.

IMPORTANT

Never use your good foil. Save that for the Christmas ham.

MATERIALS

- Six rolls of aluminum foil

- A curtain rod

- Clothespins

- A step stool

- Scissors

HOW TO

STOCKING THE INVASION PANTRY

SKILL 08 · SAUCER-PROOFING THE HOME · 2 HOURS · EASY

When the saucers land, the supermarket fills with people buying tinned peaches. The wise housewife is already at home with a full shelf and a can opener.

MATERIALS

Canned goods (lots)

A hand can opener

Jars of jam

Shelf paper

A grease pencil

1

Clear a Shelf

Remove the fondue set nobody uses. This shelf now belongs to the invasion.

2

Line It With Paper

Pretty shelf paper keeps cans from rusting and spirits from sinking.

3

Stack the Cans

Soup at the front, peaches at the back, labels facing out.

4

Add the Treats

An invasion without cookies is just a bad week.

5

Label Everything

Write the date on top. Some visitors eat labels.

6 ### Guard the Door

If something with tentacles is sniffing around the pantry, offer it the creamed corn.

NOTES

Visitors adore canned fruit cocktail. Keep two extra cans for diplomacy.

IMPORTANT

Never keep the can opener in the pantry. Keep it in your apron pocket.

HOW TO

MAKING THE BASEMENT SHELTER COZY

SKILL 09 · SAUCER-PROOFING THE HOME · HALF A DAY · MEDIUM

Every good home has a basement, and every basement can become a snug little hideaway with a few cushions, a card table and a lamp. You may be down there a while, so make it pretty.

1

Sweep the Stairs

Visitors never use the stairs, but you will.

2

Lay the Rug

A braided rug turns a cold floor into a parlor.

3

Set Up the Card Table

For meals, games and letters to your congressman about the saucers.

4

Bring Down the Cushions

One for each of the family, plus a spare in case of guests from Venus.

5

Light the Lamp

A warm lamp keeps up morale. Glowing tubes attract the wrong crowd.

6

Test It With a Game Night

Play a round of checkers. If you lose to the visitor, it got in.

NOTES

A basement with doilies is a basement you will want to come back to after the invasion.

IMPORTANT

Do not invite the visitor into the shelter. That rather defeats the purpose.

MATERIALS

- A braided rug

- Floor cushions

- A card table

- A table lamp

- Board games

HOW TO

PLANTING AN ALIEN-REPELLING MARIGOLD BORDER

SKILL 10 · SAUCER-PROOFING THE HOME · 2 HOURS · EASY

Old gardeners say marigolds keep away rabbits, aphids and things from Saturn. Whether or not it's true, your front walk will look cheerful.

MATERIALS

Marigold seedlings

A trowel

Garden gloves

A watering can

A kneeling pad

1

Choose the Border

Plant along the front walk, where visitors are most likely to land.

2

Dig the Holes

Six inches apart and a hand deep.

3

Plant the Marigolds

Orange ones alarm visitors the most. Yellow ones are a backup.

4

Water Generously

A well-watered marigold is a brave marigold.

5

Watch the Results

Visitors who meet a marigold usually sneeze and leave.

6 ### Pick a Bouquet

Bring some indoors. Any visitor who gets past the border deserves flowers.

NOTES

Plant a few extra by the clothesline. Something from Pluto once took a whole week of laundry.

IMPORTANT

If the visitor eats the marigolds, it is not working. Try zinnias.

HOW TO

RAY-PROOFING THE GOOD CHINA

SKILL 11 · SAUCER-PROOFING THE HOME · 1 HOUR · MEDIUM

Your grandmother's china survived two wars and forty Thanksgivings. It would be a shame to lose it to a stray beam. A little padding and a sturdy cabinet keep it safe.

1

Take Stock

Count every cup and saucer and write the number down.

2

Wrap Each Piece

Tissue first, then a towel, like tucking in a baby.

3

Pack the Box

Heaviest at the bottom, teacups on top.

4

Lock the Cabinet

Keep the key on a ribbon around your neck.

5

Keep a Pot Holder Handy

If a beam comes through the window, a quilted pot holder deflects it nicely.

6

Bring It Out for Company

When the danger passes, use it. China is for living.

NOTES

Melmac plates bounce. Use them for visitors until you know them better.

IMPORTANT

Never serve a visitor tea in the gravy boat. It confuses everyone.

MATERIALS

- Tissue paper

- Cotton dish towels

- A sturdy box

- A quilted pot holder

- The china cabinet key

HOW TO

ANCHORING THE STATION WAGON AGAINST TRACTOR BEAMS

SKILL 12 · SAUCER-PROOFING THE HOME · 30 MINUTES · MEDIUM

A tractor beam can lift a car right off the driveway, and then how will you get to the A&P? A clothesline and a sturdy tree solve the problem.

MATERIALS

A long clothesline

A sturdy tree

Two bricks

Work gloves

The car keys

1

Park Near a Tree

The oak by the driveway is best. Elms are too nervous.

2

Tie the Bumper

Use a double knot. Then another.

3

Loop the Tree

Twice around the trunk, with a bow on top.

4

Brick the Wheels

One brick in front of a tire and one behind.

5

Watch It Hold

When the beam comes, the car will bob like a balloon but stay put.

6 Untie It for Errands

Remember to untie it before you drive to the store. Your husband did not.

NOTES

A bow in the rope looks festive and is easier to undo with gloves on.

IMPORTANT

Never stay in the car during a beam. Groceries can be replaced; you cannot.

HOW TO

KEEPING THE LAWN SAUCER-FREE

SKILL 13 · SAUCER-PROOFING THE HOME · 1 HOUR · EASY

A saucer parked on the front lawn kills the grass and lowers the tone of the street. A short mow, a polite sign and a sprinkler keep them moving along.

1

Mow It Short

Saucers prefer long, soft grass to land on. Give them none.

2

Paint a Sign

'No Landing. Visitors Please Use the Street.' Be polite but clear.

3

Hammer It In

Place it where it can be seen from above.

4

Run the Sprinkler

Nothing from space likes a wet bottom.

5

Sit and Watch

Take a lawn chair and some lemonade, and wave them along.

6

Shoo the Stragglers

If one lands anyway, a broom and a firm 'Shoo!' usually do the trick.

NOTES

Leave the Hendersons' lawn unmowed. Let them have the saucer.

IMPORTANT

Never mow around a landed saucer. They are very sensitive about their paint.

MATERIALS

- A push mower

- A garden sprinkler

- A hand-painted sign

- A hammer

- A lawn chair

HOW TO

MAKING YOUR HOUSE LOOK BORING FROM ABOVE

SKILL 14 · SAUCER-PROOFING THE HOME · HALF A DAY · MEDIUM

Visitors look for the brightest, most interesting house on the street. With a gray tarpaulin, a can of beige paint and a sleepy expression, yours will be passed right by.

MATERIALS

A gray tarpaulin

A can of beige paint

A paintbrush

A ladder

A plain doormat

1

Pull Up the Pink Flamingos

They are a beacon to every galaxy.

2

Paint the Door Beige

Nobody has ever invaded a beige house.

3

Cover the Swing Set

A tarp hides the most exciting thing in your yard.

4

Turn Off the Porch Light

Bright lights say 'come in'. Dark porches say 'nobody home'.

5

Look Sleepy at the Window

If a saucer hovers, yawn widely. They will move on.

6 Watch Them Pick the Neighbors

The Hendersons' new aluminum siding is far more interesting.

NOTES

Put the flamingos back after the invasion. Life is too short for beige.

IMPORTANT

Don't make your house so boring that the mailman skips it too.

CHAPTER THREE

3

ENTERTAINING VISITORS FROM BEYOND

Gracious hospitality for guests with more than two arms

Sooner or later, one of them is going to ring the doorbell. A good hostess does not scream, faint or hide in the coat closet. She opens the door, smiles, and asks whether they would like a cup of coffee. This chapter covers everything from the first hello to the last wave goodbye, including how to seat a guest who is mostly tentacle.

IN THIS CHAPTER

15 Answering the Door to an Alien
16 Setting the Table for a Guest With Seven Arms
17 Making Small Talk With a Martian
18 Hosting a Bridge Party With Visitors
19 Seating a Guest Who Won't Fit on the Sofa
20 Serving Coffee to Something With No Mouth
21 Saying Goodbye Without Being Abducted

HOW TO

ANSWERING THE DOOR TO AN ALIEN

SKILL 15 · ENTERTAINING VISITORS FROM BEYOND · 5 MINUTES · EASY

MATERIALS

- A fresh apron (to take off)

- Lipstick

- A welcome mat

- A small dish of mints

- A calm voice

First impressions matter, on this planet and others. Open the door the way your mother taught you: with a smile, a straight back and your apron off.

1

Check Your Lipstick

A quick look in the hall mirror. Visitors from Venus notice these things.

2

Take Off the Apron

Hang it on the hook. You are now a hostess.

3

Peek Through the Glass

Count the eyes so you can make proper eye contact.

4

Open With a Smile

Wide, warm and not too many teeth. Some species find teeth alarming.

5

Say Good Afternoon

Speak slowly. Most of them learned English from the radio.

6

Invite Them In

'Won't you come in? Mind the step.' Then step aside, quickly.

NOTES

Keep a dish of mints by the door. Interplanetary breath can be strong.

IMPORTANT

Never say 'Take me to your leader.' That's their line.

HOW TO

SETTING THE TABLE FOR A GUEST WITH SEVEN ARMS

SKILL 16 · ENTERTAINING VISITORS FROM BEYOND · 30 MINUTES · MEDIUM

Emily Post says nothing about tentacles, so the modern hostess must improvise. The secret is extra forks and plenty of napkins.

1

Count the Arms

Ask politely. One fork per arm is the rule.

2

Lay the Tablecloth

Use the washable one. Trust us.

3

Fan the Forks

Arrange them like a sunburst around the plate. Very modern.

MATERIALS

Your best tablecloth

Twenty-one forks

A stack of napkins

A centerpiece

Place cards

4

Double the Napkins

Visitors drip. Some of them on purpose.

5

Add a Centerpiece

Flowers are nice, but some guests eat them. Choose something sturdy, like a pineapple.

NOTES

A lazy Susan is a godsend. Guests can reach everything without stretching across the gravy.

IMPORTANT

Don't seat a visitor next to the goldfish bowl.

6 Seat Your Guest

Pull out the sturdiest chair and put a cushion on it.

HOW TO

MAKING SMALL TALK WITH A MARTIAN

SKILL 17 · ENTERTAINING VISITORS FROM BEYOND · 20 MINUTES · EASY

Conversation is the hostess's most important tool. With a few good topics you can chat with anyone from anywhere, even a place with three moons.

MATERIALS

- A list of topics

- A pot of coffee

- Two good cups

- The family photo album

- A globe

1

Start With the Weather

Ask about theirs. On Mars it is always cold and dusty, so be sympathetic.

2

Show the Globe

Point out where you live. They will point out where they parked.

3

Ask About the Trip

'Was the traffic bad?' works with every visitor.

4

Show the Photo Album

Baby pictures are a universal language.

5

Avoid Politics

Never ask what they think of the President. They may want to meet him.

6

Laugh at Their Jokes

Even if you don't understand them. Especially then.

NOTES

Most visitors are fascinated by the vacuum cleaner. A short demonstration fills twenty minutes.

IMPORTANT

Never ask how old they are. Some of them are four thousand.

HOW TO

HOSTING A BRIDGE PARTY WITH VISITORS

SKILL 18 · ENTERTAINING VISITORS FROM BEYOND · AN AFTERNOON · MEDIUM

Bridge needs four, and when Doris has the flu, any visitor will do. Many of them are excellent at cards, since they can see right through them.

1

Set Up the Table

Four chairs and one wide stool.

2

Explain the Rules

Speak slowly and show them a trick or two.

3

Watch for Peeking

Ask guests with eyes on stalks to keep them above the table.

MATERIALS

A card table

Two decks of cards

A bowl of nuts

Score pads

Tea sandwiches

4

Pass the Sandwiches

Cut off the crusts. Some species are allergic to crust.

5

Keep Score

Write neatly. They will check.

NOTES

Never play for money. They use a different currency, and it glows.

IMPORTANT

If a guest has seven arms, count the cards before and after.

6 Lose Graciously

They will win. Smile and offer more nuts.

HOW TO

SEATING A GUEST WHO WON'T FIT ON THE SOFA

SKILL 19 · ENTERTAINING VISITORS FROM BEYOND · 30 MINUTES · MEDIUM

Some visitors are the size of a Buick. A good hostess never makes a guest feel large. She simply moves the furniture.

MATERIALS

- A tape measure

- Extra cushions

- A rubber sheet

- A plant mister

- A footstool

1

Measure the Guest

Discreetly. Pretend you are measuring for drapes.

2

Push Back the Sofa

Slide it to the wall. Lift with your knees.

3

Lay the Rubber Sheet

Large guests are often damp. Your rug will thank you.

4

Pile the Cushions

Make a nice soft nest.

5

Invite Them to Settle

'Make yourself comfortable.' They will.

6

Mist Them Now and Then

Damp visitors like to stay damp. A plant mister is very hospitable.

NOTES

If the guest won't fit through the door, serve tea on the lawn.

IMPORTANT

Never sit on a blob to see if it's comfortable. It is, but it's rude.

HOW TO

SERVING COFFEE TO SOMETHING WITH NO MOUTH

SKILL 20 · ENTERTAINING VISITORS FROM BEYOND · 15 MINUTES · EASY

Not every visitor has a mouth where you'd expect one. Some drink through their feet. Some soak it up through the skin. A good hostess serves the coffee anyway and lets the guest work it out.

1

Perk the Coffee

Fresh and strong. Visitors travel a long way.

2

Offer Cream and Sugar

Ask how they take it and write it down for next time.

3

Offer a Straw

If you can't find the mouth, a straw lets them find it themselves.

MATERIALS

A percolator

Your good cups

A saucer (the small kind)

A drinking straw

Sugar cubes

4

Try the Saucer

Some guests prefer to soak a tentacle. Pour a little in the saucer.

5

Don't Stare

However they drink it, look at the cookies instead.

6 Refill Promptly

An empty cup is a sad cup on any planet.

NOTES

If the coffee disappears and the guest looks happy, it worked.

IMPORTANT

Don't offer decaf. It confuses them.

HOW TO

SAYING GOODBYE WITHOUT BEING ABDUCTED

SKILL 21 · ENTERTAINING VISITORS FROM BEYOND · 10 MINUTES · MEDIUM

The end of a visit is delicate. Many a hostess has walked a guest to the saucer and found herself on the way to Jupiter. Here is how to wave goodbye from a safe distance.

MATERIALS

- A wrapped plate of leftovers

- A handkerchief for waving

- A porch light

- Sensible shoes

- A firm handshake

1

Wrap Up Leftovers

Every guest leaves with a plate. That is the law in this house.

2

Walk Them to the Porch

Not one step farther.

3

Shake Hands Firmly

One firm shake, then step back.

4

Stay Off the Ramp

If a ramp comes down, admire it from the porch.

5

Wave the Handkerchief

Big waves. They can't see well in our atmosphere.

6

Turn Off the Porch Light

The visit is over. The dishes are waiting.

NOTES

Invite them back for Thursday. Nothing ends a visit faster than a firm date for the next one.

IMPORTANT

If the beam starts glowing, hold on to the porch railing.

CHAPTER FOUR

4

FEEDING THE INVADERS

Recipes and kitchen wisdom for appetites from outer space

Everyone gets hungry after crossing the galaxy, and an army marches on its stomach, even an army with nine stomachs each. The kitchen is where the housewife wins the war of the worlds, one casserole at a time. These recipes stretch to feed any number of guests and have been tested on visitors from at least four planets. Not one of them has invaded anybody after second helpings.

IN THIS CHAPTER

22 Tuna Casserole for Forty Mouths
23 The Peacekeeping Green Gelatin Mold
24 Meatloaf Diplomacy
25 Packing a Lunch for a Long Space Voyage
26 Baking a Welcome-to-Earth Cake
27 Feeding a Visitor Who Eats Metal

HOW TO

TUNA CASSEROLE FOR FORTY MOUTHS

SKILL 22 · FEEDING THE INVADERS · 1 HOUR · MEDIUM

Some visitors have one mouth. Some have forty. This casserole feeds them all and still leaves enough for your husband's lunch.

MATERIALS

Twelve cans of tuna

Egg noodles

Cream of mushroom soup

Crushed potato chips

Your biggest roasting pan

1

Boil the Noodles

Use the canning pot. You will need it.

2

Open the Tuna

All twelve cans. Save the juice for the cat.

3

Stir In the Soup

Mix until creamy and hum something cheerful.

4

Top With Chips

Crush them with a rolling pin. Very satisfying.

5

Bake Until Bubbly

Forty-five minutes at 350. The smell will bring guests from miles away.

6 Serve Generously

One scoop per mouth.

NOTES

If the guest eats the pan too, take it as a compliment.

IMPORTANT

Check for little ones under the table before you set the hot dish down.

HOW TO

THE PEACEKEEPING GREEN GELATIN MOLD

SKILL 23 · FEEDING THE INVADERS · OVERNIGHT · EASY

Scientists have proven what housewives always knew: everybody loves a jiggly gelatin mold. Visitors seem to think it is a relative and greet it warmly.

1

Dissolve the Gelatin

Boiling water, stirred until no crystals remain.

2

Add the Fruit

Fruit cocktail is traditional. Cherries on top are festive.

3

Pour Into the Mold

Slowly, so the fruit stays put.

4

Chill Overnight

Put it on the top shelf where nobody can poke it.

5

Turn It Out

Dip the mold in warm water, flip it over and hope.

6

Present It Proudly

Watch your guest's eyes light up. All of them.

NOTES

If the gelatin waves back, that is not your gelatin.

IMPORTANT

Never serve green gelatin to a green visitor without asking first. It may be a cousin.

MATERIALS

- Lime gelatin

- A ring mold

- Canned fruit cocktail

- Whipped cream

- A pretty platter

HOW TO

MEATLOAF DIPLOMACY

SKILL 24 · FEEDING THE INVADERS · 1.5 HOURS · EASY

Many an invasion has ended at the dinner table. A good meatloaf, glazed and sliced thick, says 'Welcome to Earth' better than any general ever could.

MATERIALS

Two pounds of ground beef

Bread crumbs

An egg

Ketchup for the glaze

A loaf pan

1

Mix With Your Hands

It is the only way. Take your rings off first.

2

Shape the Loaf

Pat it into the pan, firm but gentle.

3

Glaze With Ketchup

A thick red stripe. Visitors find it very pretty.

4

Bake for an Hour

Set the timer. Do not answer the door until it rings.

5

Slice It Thick

Thin slices look stingy on any planet.

6 Serve the Ambassador

Give the biggest guest the end piece. It is an honor.

NOTES

Leftover meatloaf makes the best sandwiches for the long trip home to Neptune.

IMPORTANT

If the visitor asks what's in it, say 'love'.

HOW TO

PACKING A LUNCH FOR A LONG SPACE VOYAGE

SKILL 25 · FEEDING THE INVADERS · 20 MINUTES · EASY

It is a long way to Alpha Centauri and there are no diners on the way. Send your visitor off with a proper lunch.

1

Make the Sandwiches
Peanut butter travels well in zero gravity.

2

Wrap in Wax Paper
Tight folds, so crumbs don't float around the cabin.

3

Fill the Thermos
Hot tomato soup. Space is chilly.

4

Add a Note
'Have a safe trip! Love from Earth.'

5

Close the Pail
Snap the latches and check them twice.

6

Hand It Over
They are so touched that some of them cry. It comes out green.

NOTES

Pack an extra cookie. Space voyages always take longer than planned.

IMPORTANT

No hard-boiled eggs. Not in a sealed saucer.

MATERIALS

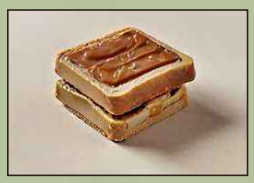

- A metal lunch pail

- Wax paper

- Peanut butter sandwiches

- A thermos of soup

- An apple

HOW TO

BAKING A WELCOME-TO-EARTH CAKE

SKILL 26 · FEEDING THE INVADERS · 2 HOURS · MEDIUM

Nothing says hello like a three-layer cake. Decorate it like a planet and you will have friends for life, however long life is where they come from.

MATERIALS

Flour, sugar and eggs

Three round cake pans

Blue and green frosting

Birthday candles

A cake stand

1

Mix the Batter

Cream the butter and sugar until fluffy.

2

Bake Three Layers

Turn the pans halfway. Ovens are like planets: hot on one side.

3

Stack the Layers

Frosting between each one, like mortar.

4

Frost It Like a Globe

Blue for the oceans, green for the land. Don't forget your town.

5

Light the Candles

One for each planet in the solar system.

6 Present It With a Song

'For He's a Jolly Good Fellow' is understood everywhere.

NOTES

Save a slice for the President. He may stop by.

IMPORTANT

Some visitors try to eat the candles. Blow them out first.

HOW TO

FEEDING A VISITOR WHO EATS METAL

SKILL 27 · FEEDING THE INVADERS · 30 MINUTES · MEDIUM

Not every guest eats meatloaf. Some prefer hubcaps, bedsprings and the occasional toaster. With a little planning you can feed them without losing the station wagon.

1

Raid the Garage

Old paint cans and broken rakes make a lovely buffet.

2

Polish the Pans

Shiny food tastes better. Ask anyone from Mercury.

3

Arrange the Plate

Bottle caps make a nice garnish.

4

Hide the Toaster

Put it in the oven until dinner is over.

5

Serve and Stand Back

They crunch. Loudly.

6

Count the Spoons Afterward

It isn't stealing. It's dessert.

NOTES

The junkyard on Route 9 sells scrap by the pound. Much cheaper than steak.

IMPORTANT

Never let them near the car. They start with the chrome.

MATERIALS

- Old pots and pans

- A bag of bottle caps

- Rusty nails

- A tin plate

- A fork (theirs, not yours)

CHAPTER FIVE

5

HOUSEKEEPING IN A TIME OF INVASION

Getting slime out of the shag and other modern problems

Visitors are messy. They drip, they glow, they shed, and some of them leave little puddles that hum. But the American housewife has faced grass stains, gravy and three boys. She can face this. Here are the tried and tested methods for keeping a spotless home during an invasion, along with a few ways to get the visitors to help.

IN THIS CHAPTER

28 Getting Alien Slime Out of the Carpet
29 Laundering a Space Suit
30 Vacuuming Up a Very Small Alien (and Letting It Out)
31 Polishing a Flying Saucer
32 Defrosting the Kitchen After a Freeze Ray
33 Putting a Many-Armed Visitor to Work
34 Getting Ray-Gun Scorch Marks Off the Wallpaper

HOW TO

GETTING ALIEN SLIME OUT OF THE CARPET

SKILL 28 · HOUSEKEEPING IN A TIME OF INVASION · 30 MINUTES · MEDIUM

Green slime is the gravy of the space age: it gets everywhere, and it never comes out the first time.

1

Blot, Don't Rub

Rubbing spreads it. Blotting lifts it.

2

Mix Vinegar and Water

One cup to a bucket. Your mother's recipe.

3

Scrub in Circles

Small circles, working outward.

MATERIALS

A bucket of warm water

White vinegar

A scrub brush

Old towels

Rubber gloves

4

Rinse and Blot Again

Repeat until the towel comes up white.

5

Find the Source

The trail usually leads to the sofa.

NOTES

Slime that glows in the dark is easiest to find at night. Clean with the lights off.

IMPORTANT

Never vacuum slime. The vacuum will never be the same, and neither will you.

6 Lay Down a Mat

A rubber mat under the guest saves hours.

HOW TO

LAUNDERING A SPACE SUIT

SKILL 29 · HOUSEKEEPING IN A TIME OF INVASION · 1 HOUR · MEDIUM

Silver space suits are very smart, but they show every spot. Cold water and a gentle hand keep them shining.

MATERIALS

- Mild soap flakes

- A washtub

- A clothesline

- Clothespins

- A soft brush

1

Check the Pockets
You'll find rocks, odd coins and sometimes a small creature.

2

Soak in Cold Water
Hot water shrinks them to doll size.

3

Brush the Cuffs
Moon dust gathers at the wrists.

4

Wring Gently
Twist, don't yank.

5

Hang It in the Sun
Pin it by the shoulders. It will try to float.

6

Return It Pressed
A warm iron on low. Never steam the helmet.

NOTES

A little starch makes the collar stand up. Visitors love a crisp collar.

IMPORTANT

Don't put the helmet in the dryer. The Hendersons did, and it is still going round.

HOW TO

VACUUMING UP A VERY SMALL ALIEN (AND LETTING IT OUT)

SKILL 30 · HOUSEKEEPING IN A TIME OF INVASION · 15 MINUTES · EASY

It happens to the best of us. You're running the vacuum, you hear a tiny 'Eep!', and now there is a visitor in the bag. Don't panic. Here is how to get them out with their dignity.

1

Switch Off at Once

Pull the plug. Don't just push the button.

2

Listen for Squeaking

Put your ear to the bag.

3

Spread the Newspaper

Gently empty the bag onto the funnies.

MATERIALS

Your vacuum cleaner

A sheet of newspaper

A magnifying glass

A thimble of water

An apology

4

Search With a Glass

Look for anything blinking.

5

Offer Water

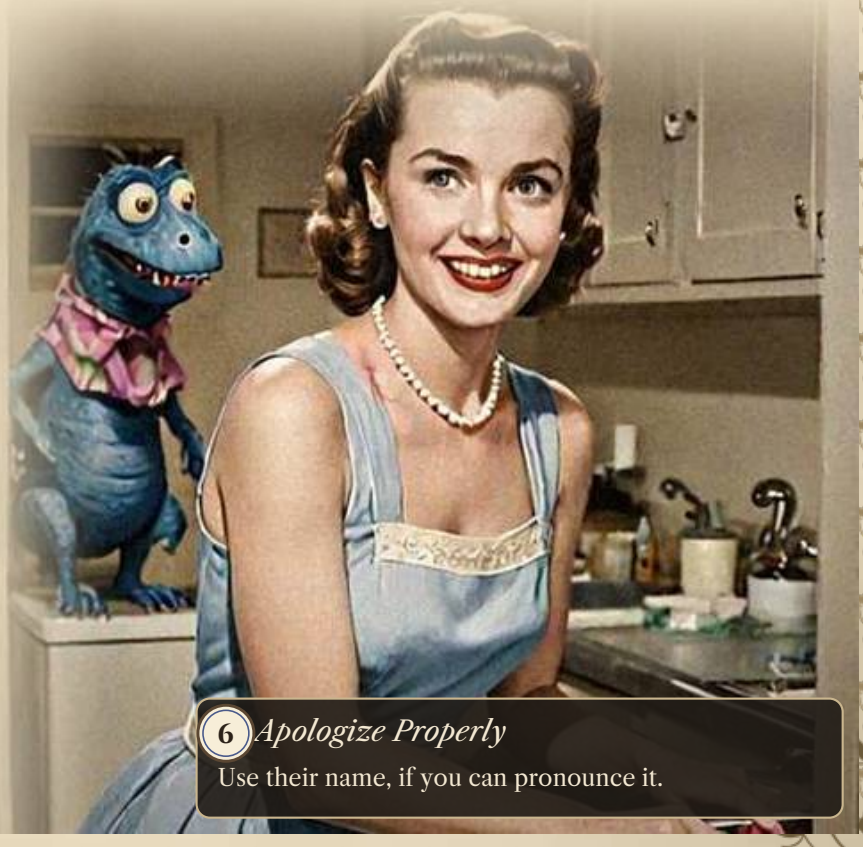

A thimble is plenty. They are very small.

NOTES

Vacuum under the beds slowly. That is where they like to nap.

IMPORTANT

Never use the hose attachment on the sofa cushions during an invasion.

6 Apologize Properly

Use their name, if you can pronounce it.

HOW TO

POLISHING A FLYING SAUCER

SKILL 31 · HOUSEKEEPING IN A TIME OF INVASION · 2 HOURS · MEDIUM

If one is going to sit on your lawn all week, it might as well be shiny. A polished saucer reflects well on the whole household.

MATERIALS

- Chrome polish

- Soft rags

- A stepladder

- A bucket of soapy water

- A chamois

1

Ask Permission

Knock on the hatch. Some of them are fussy.

2

Wash Off the Space Dust

Soapy water and long strokes.

3

Climb the Ladder

Do the dome last. That is where the bird droppings are.

4

Apply the Polish

Small circles, then buff.

5

Admire the Shine

You should see your reflection, hairnet and all.

6

Decline the Thank-You Ride

Politely say no, unless it's going to the shops.

NOTES

Car wax works too, and it costs half as much.

IMPORTANT

Don't touch the glowing bits. They are hot, and some of them are looking at you.

HOW TO

DEFROSTING THE KITCHEN AFTER A FREEZE RAY

SKILL 32 · HOUSEKEEPING IN A TIME OF INVASION · 1 HOUR · EASY

A freeze ray is no worse than a stuck freezer door, really. Something in your kitchen is now covered in frost. With a hair dryer and patience it will be good as new.

1

Assess the Damage

Is it the cat, the casserole or your husband?

2

Plug In the Hair Dryer

Medium heat. You're thawing, not cooking.

3

Lay Towels Down

Everything drips eventually.

MATERIALS

A hair dryer

Towels

A kettle of warm water

A flannel blanket

A cup of cocoa

4

Thaw the Casserole

Into a warm oven. Supper is saved.

5

Wrap the Cat

A flannel blanket and a saucer of warm milk.

NOTES

Keep the ice. Freeze-ray ice keeps lemonade cold for a week.

IMPORTANT

Never thaw your husband with the hair dryer on high.

6 Make Cocoa All Round

Including for the visitor, who is very sorry.

HOW TO

PUTTING A MANY-ARMED VISITOR TO WORK

SKILL 33 · HOUSEKEEPING IN A TIME OF INVASION · AN AFTERNOON · EASY

Many visitors have six or eight arms and nothing to do. Put them to work. A many-armed guest can fold a week of laundry before the kettle boils.

MATERIALS

- A basket of laundry

- An ironing board

- A feather duster

- A mop

- A gold star chart

1

Show Them the Basket

Hold up a towel and fold it slowly. Then point at them.

2

Hand Out the Tools

A duster in one hand, a mop in another, and so on.

3

Teach the Ironing

Show them how to test the iron with a damp finger, or tentacle.

4

Supervise the Dusting

Make sure they reach the top of the bookcase. They can.

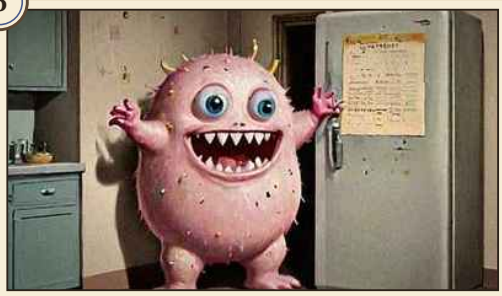

5

Check the Folding

Corners should meet. Praise generously.

6

Give a Gold Star

Visitors love gold stars. Put the chart on the icebox.

NOTES

Don't let them wash the good crystal until the third week.

IMPORTANT

Some visitors fold everything, including the dog. Supervise closely.

HOW TO

GETTING RAY-GUN SCORCH MARKS OFF THE WALLPAPER

SKILL 34 · HOUSEKEEPING IN A TIME OF INVASION · 30 MINUTES · MEDIUM

Even friendly visitors are clumsy with their equipment. A scorch mark on the floral wallpaper looks dreadful, but it comes off with a little bread and patience.

1

Find the Mark

Usually at the height of a nervous tentacle.

2

Rub With Bread

An old trick: fresh white bread lifts soot like magic.

3

Try Baking Soda

Make a paste and dab it on with a damp sponge.

MATERIALS

A slice of white bread

Baking soda

A damp sponge

Wallpaper paste

A spare roll of wallpaper

4

Patch If Needed

Cut a piece from the spare roll and match the roses.

5

Hang a Picture Over It

When all else fails, a nice landscape.

NOTES

Buy an extra roll of wallpaper whenever you redecorate. Invasions are not rare.

IMPORTANT

Never try to clean the ray gun yourself.

6 Have a Word With the Guest

Gently suggest the ray gun stays in the saucer.

CHAPTER SIX

6

CHILDREN, PETS AND LITTLE GREEN MEN

What to do when the kids bring one home

Children and visitors get along famously. They are about the same height, they both like bright colors, and neither of them wants to take a bath. This chapter covers what to do when Junior brings one home, how to mind a baby from beyond, how to walk a space pet and how to keep the dog from barking at the sky all night.

IN THIS CHAPTER

35 When Junior Brings One Home
36 Babysitting a Baby From Beyond
37 Walking a Space Pet
38 Calming a Dog Who Barks at Saucers
39 Explaining Aliens at Bedtime
40 Sewing a Halloween Costume Nobody Will Question

HOW TO

WHEN JUNIOR BRINGS ONE HOME

SKILL 35 · CHILDREN, PETS AND LITTLE GREEN MEN · 1 HOUR · EASY

'Can we keep him, Mom? He followed me home!' Every mother hears it sooner or later. Sometimes it's a puppy. Sometimes it has antennae.

1

Hear the Story

Let Junior explain. It will take a while.

2

Meet the Visitor

Look it over and count its legs.

3

Make Up a Bed

A cardboard box and an old blanket by the furnace.

4

Set the House Rules

No flying in the house. No beaming the cat.

5

Feed It Supper

Start with mashed potatoes. Everybody likes mashed potatoes.

6

Look for Its Parents

Somewhere out there, a mother saucer is worried sick.

NOTES

If its parents come for it, invite them in for coffee. They will have had a long night.

IMPORTANT

Never let Junior take it to school for show-and-tell. Not after last time.

MATERIALS

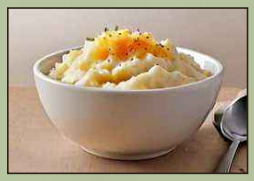

- A cardboard box

- An old blanket

- A bowl of mashed potatoes

- Junior's promise to look after it

- A list of house rules

HOW TO

BABYSITTING A BABY FROM BEYOND

SKILL 36 · CHILDREN, PETS AND LITTLE GREEN MEN · AN EVENING · MEDIUM

Visiting mothers need a night out too. If you are asked to mind the little one, treat it like any baby: feed it, burp it and keep it away from the electrical sockets.

MATERIALS

A bassinet

A baby bottle

A rattle

A soft blanket

A lullaby

1

Take the Instructions

Write down when it eats and what it eats.

2

Warm the Bottle

Test it on your wrist. If it glows, it's too hot.

3

Feed the Baby

Some have one mouth and some have six. Be patient.

4

Shake the Rattle

They love noise. Lots of noise.

5

Burp It Gently

Over the shoulder with a towel. Stand clear.

6 Sing a Lullaby

'Twinkle, Twinkle, Little Star' may make it homesick, so try 'Rock-a-Bye Baby'.

NOTES

Floating babies should be tied to the bassinet with a ribbon.

IMPORTANT

Don't change it until you know which end is which.

HOW TO

WALKING A SPACE PET

SKILL 37 · CHILDREN, PETS AND LITTLE GREEN MEN · 30 MINUTES · EASY

Some visitors bring pets, and pets need walking. A space pet is like a dog, only with more legs and less interest in fire hydrants.

1

Clip on the Leash

Find the neck. There may be more than one.

2

Start Down the Sidewalk

Let it sniff. Everything is new.

3

Say Hello to the Neighbors

Smile. It's just a pet.

4

Keep It Off the Lawns

It eats grass. A lot of grass.

5

Give a Treat

Reward good behavior with a dog biscuit.

6

Head Home Before Dark

They glow at night, and it frightens the Wilsons.

NOTES

If it floats away, just hold on. It comes down eventually.

IMPORTANT

Steer clear of the Pruitts' poodle. It has never been the same.

MATERIALS

- A long leash

- A sturdy collar

- Dog biscuits

- A paper bag (for what they leave)

- Comfortable shoes

HOW TO

CALMING A DOG WHO BARKS AT SAUCERS

SKILL 38 · CHILDREN, PETS AND LITTLE GREEN MEN · 1 HOUR · EASY

Dogs know. They have known all along. Every night Rusty stands on the lawn barking at the sky, and every night the neighbors complain. Here is how to give everyone some peace.

MATERIALS

Dog biscuits

A soft dog bed

A ticking clock

Earmuffs (for you)

A tennis ball

1

Find Out What He Sees

Look where he's looking. He is usually right.

2

Bring Him Inside

Lay a biscuit trail from the lawn to the kitchen.

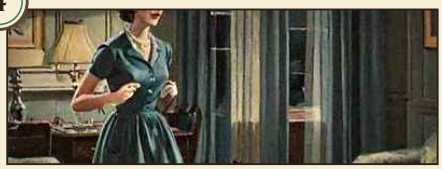

3

Make a Cozy Bed

A ticking clock under the blanket sounds like a heartbeat.

4

Draw the Curtains

If he can't see them, he'll stop.

5

Throw the Ball

A good game takes his mind off the sky.

6 Introduce Him to the Visitor

Once they meet, they are usually friends.

NOTES

Dogs and visitors both like belly rubs. Find out where the belly is first.

IMPORTANT

Don't let him chase the saucer. He'll never catch it, and if he does, he'll never let go.

HOW TO

EXPLAINING ALIENS AT BEDTIME

SKILL 39 · CHILDREN, PETS AND LITTLE GREEN MEN · 15 MINUTES · EASY

Little ones have questions. Where do they come from? Are they nice? Is that one under my bed? A calm mother with a good story can answer them all.

1

Tuck Them In
Tight sheets make for brave children.

2

Read About the Stars
Show them the pictures of the planets.

3

Check Under the Bed
With a flashlight. Make a show of it.

4

Find a Visitor Anyway
Sometimes there really is one. Say hello and ask it to sleep in the hall.

5

Turn On the Night-Light
A little glow keeps everyone calm.

6

Kiss Goodnight
And leave the door open just a crack.

NOTES

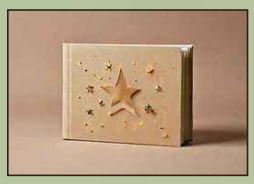

Tell them visitors are afraid of children who don't brush their teeth. It isn't true, but it works.

IMPORTANT

Don't mention the one in the attic until morning.

MATERIALS

- A picture book about the stars

- A night-light

- A glass of water

- A teddy bear

- A flashlight

HOW TO

SEWING A HALLOWEEN COSTUME NOBODY WILL QUESTION

SKILL 40 · CHILDREN, PETS AND LITTLE GREEN MEN · AN AFTERNOON · MEDIUM

Halloween is the one night a visitor can walk down the street without causing a fuss. One old bedsheet and nobody will look twice.

MATERIALS

A sewing machine

An old bedsheet

A cowboy hat

Scissors

A trick-or-treat bag

1

Measure the Visitor

Hold still. Yes, all the arms.

2

Cut the Sheet

Cut the eyeholes. Count the eyes first.

3

Sew the Hems

A straight stitch so it doesn't trip.

4

Add a Cowboy Hat

Everybody loves a cowboy.

5

Practice 'Trick or Treat'

Three words. It may take an hour.

6 Send Them Out

Back by eight, and no beaming candy out of other children's bags.

NOTES

It has won the costume contest three years running. Nobody has guessed.

IMPORTANT

Keep it away from the apple-bobbing tub. Some of them dissolve.

CHAPTER SEVEN

7

OUT AND ABOUT

Shopping, errands and the beauty parlor during an invasion

An invasion is no reason to let the errands pile up. The library books are still due, the supermarket still has a sale on pot roast, and your hair still needs setting on Friday. This chapter takes the housewife out into town, where the saucers are parked in the loading zones and the visitors are trying on hats.

IN THIS CHAPTER

41 Grocery Shopping During an Invasion
42 Getting Your Hair Set Next to a Martian
43 Taking a Visitor to the Public Library
44 Bringing a Visitor to the PTA Meeting
45 A Church Picnic With Unexpected Guests
46 League Night With a Tentacled Bowler
47 Buying a Hat for a Head Shaped Like That

HOW TO

GROCERY SHOPPING DURING AN INVASION

SKILL 41 · OUT AND ABOUT · 1 HOUR · EASY

The supermarket is busier than ever. Everybody is stocking up, and half the shoppers have tentacles. Keep your list short and your cart close.

MATERIALS

- A shopping list

- Coupons

- Your handbag

- A sturdy shopping cart

- Exact change

1

Make a List

Tinned goods, milk, and something nice for the visitors.

2

Get a Good Cart

One with all four wheels pointing the same way.

3

Mind the Aisles

Visitors stop suddenly to marvel at the canned peas.

4

Watch Your Cart

They will put things in it. Check before the register.

5

Check Out Politely

Count your change. Some coins are not from here.

6

Carry It Home Carefully

Eggs on top.

NOTES

Go on Tuesday mornings. Visitors sleep late.

IMPORTANT

If a visitor squeezes the melons, look away. That is how they say hello.

HOW TO

GETTING YOUR HAIR SET NEXT TO A MARTIAN

SKILL 42 · OUT AND ABOUT · 2 HOURS · EASY

Friday is hair day, invasion or not. These days the chair next to you at the beauty parlor may be taken by someone with antennae, and they will want curlers too.

1

Keep Your Appointment
Never cancel. They will give your slot away.

2

Sit Under the Dryer
Thirty minutes with a good magazine.

3

Greet Your Neighbor
Nod to the visitor in the next chair and compliment the curlers.

MATERIALS

Your appointment card

A headscarf

A magazine

A tip for the stylist

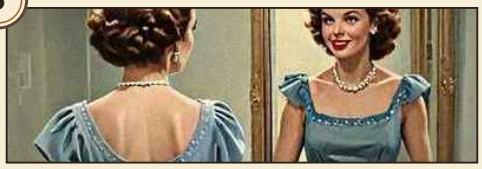

Bobby pins

4

Don't Stare at the Antennae
Keep your eyes on your magazine.

5

Check the Result
Turn your head both ways in the mirror.

NOTES

Bring a scarf for the walk home. Saucer wind is murder on a set.

IMPORTANT

Don't let the visitor use your dryer first. It will never cool down.

6 Tip and Go
A quarter for the girl and a smile for everyone.

HOW TO

TAKING A VISITOR TO THE PUBLIC LIBRARY

SKILL 43 · OUT AND ABOUT · 1 HOUR · EASY

Visitors are curious about everything, and the public library is the best place to learn. Take one along. Just remind them to whisper.

MATERIALS

- Your library card

- A tote bag

- Coins for overdue fines

- A finger to put to your lips

- Reading glasses

1

Return Your Books

Pay your fines. Librarians notice these things.

2

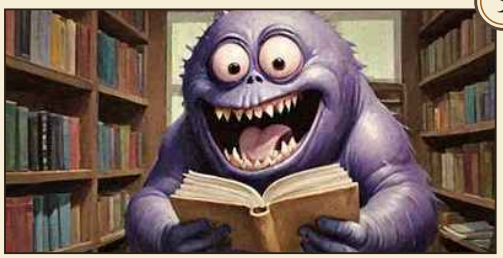

Find the Astronomy Shelf

They always want to see pictures of home.

3

Whisper

Put a finger to your lips. They catch on quickly.

4

Find a Cookbook for Yourself

You'll need new recipes for all these guests.

5

Get Them a Card

Many libraries will issue one with a forwarding address.

6

Carry Home the Stack

Visitors check out the limit. Every time.

NOTES

Steer them away from the science fiction shelf. They find it very insulting.

IMPORTANT

Never let them borrow the encyclopedia volume on Earth's defenses.

HOW TO

BRINGING A VISITOR TO THE PTA MEETING

SKILL 44 · OUT AND ABOUT · AN EVENING · MEDIUM

Visitors with children want a say in the bake sale too, and the PTA is the place to say it. Bring them along and help them follow the rules of order.

1

Bring Brownies
The first rule of the PTA.

2

Make Name Tags
'Hello, My Name Is...' Leave plenty of room.

3

Find Good Seats
Near the coffee urn, far from Mrs. Pruitt.

MATERIALS

A folding chair

A plate of brownies

The meeting agenda

A pencil

A name tag

4

Raise Your Hand
Show the visitor how. One tentacle is plenty.

5

Vote on the Bake Sale
Visitors always vote for more cookies.

NOTES

Volunteer the visitor for the bake sale. Eight arms can frost a great many cupcakes.

IMPORTANT

Never let a visitor take the minutes. They write in a language that hums.

6 Stack the Chairs
Everyone helps, even guests.

HOW TO

A CHURCH PICNIC WITH UNEXPECTED GUESTS

SKILL 45 · OUT AND ABOUT · AN AFTERNOON · EASY

MATERIALS

- A checked picnic blanket

- Fried chicken

- Deviled eggs

- Lemonade

- A wicker basket

There is always room for one more at the church picnic, even if that one is nine feet tall and green. Bring an extra casserole and a big blanket.

1

Spread the Blanket
In the shade, away from the anthill.

2

Unpack the Basket
Chicken, eggs, pie. In that order.

3

Welcome the Newcomer
Hand them a plate.

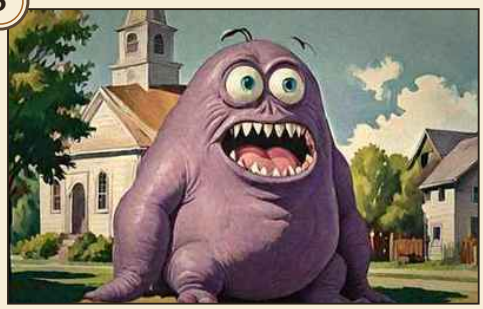

4

Pass the Deviled Eggs
Visitors adore them. Count on six each.

5

Join the Sack Race
They have an advantage with no legs. Be a good sport.

6

Pack Up Tidy
Leave the park cleaner than you found it.

NOTES

Seat visitors upwind of the potato salad. Some of them smell faintly of thunderstorms.

IMPORTANT

Don't let them near the punch bowl. They think it's a bath.

HOW TO

LEAGUE NIGHT WITH A TENTACLED BOWLER

SKILL 46 · OUT AND ABOUT · AN EVENING · EASY

Wednesday is league night, and the team is one short. Many visitors are wonderful bowlers, especially the ones with suction cups.

1

Rent the Shoes
Visitors may need several pairs.

2

Pick a Ball
Find one with enough holes.

3

Show the Approach
Four steps and a smooth release.

MATERIALS

Bowling shoes

Your own ball

A score sheet

A bag of popcorn

A team shirt

4

Keep Score
A strike is an X. Visitors love drawing them.

5

Cheer the Strike
Jump up and clap.

NOTES

Stand well back when a visitor bowls. Some of them throw from the ceiling.

IMPORTANT

Never lend a visitor your lucky ball.

6 Celebrate With Popcorn
Win or lose, popcorn.

HOW TO

BUYING A HAT FOR A HEAD SHAPED LIKE THAT

SKILL 47 · OUT AND ABOUT · 1 HOUR · MEDIUM

MATERIALS

- A tape measure

- Your charge card

- A hatbox

- Hatpins

- Patience

Every visitor wants a proper Earth hat, and the department store milliner is happy to help. It is simply a matter of finding one that fits around the antennae.

1

Visit the Hat Counter
Third floor, past the gloves.

2

Measure the Head
Measure all the heads, if there is more than one.

3

Try a Pillbox
Small and tidy. Usually too small.

4

Try a Wide Brim
Plenty of room for antennae.

5

Add a Feather
Every hat is better with a feather.

6

Pay and Box It
Charge it, wrap it and carry it proudly.

NOTES

Cut holes for the antennae at home with nail scissors. Department stores frown on it.

IMPORTANT

Never tell a visitor a hat makes their head look big.

CHAPTER EIGHT

8

UNUSUAL SITUATIONS

Tractor beams, shrink rays and other household emergencies

Even the best-run household has the occasional emergency. In ordinary times that means a burnt roast or a flood in the basement. During an invasion it means being beamed aboard a mothership, shrunk to the size of a thimble, or finding a forty-foot visitor sitting on the house. Keep your apron on and read on.

IN THIS CHAPTER

48 Being Beamed Up With Your Hair Still Set
49 Escaping a Tractor Beam With the Vacuum Cleaner
50 Living Through a Shrink Ray
51 When a Forty-Foot Visitor Sits on the House
52 Talking Down the Galactic Overlord
53 Fixing a Saucer That Crashed in the Garden
54 Visiting the Mothership

HOW TO

BEING BEAMED UP WITH YOUR HAIR STILL SET

SKILL 48 · UNUSUAL SITUATIONS · 5 MINUTES · HARD

It happens quickly: a hum, a glow, and your feet leave the kitchen floor. Stay calm, hold your skirt and keep your hair in place. You will want to look nice when you arrive.

MATERIALS

Hairspray (lots)

A headscarf

Sensible shoes

Your handbag

A compact mirror

1

Notice the Glow

If the light through the window is green and humming, act fast.

2

Spray Your Hair

Two coats. It is windy up there.

3

Tie a Headscarf

Under the chin, double knot.

4

Hold Your Skirt

Float with dignity.

5

Clutch Your Handbag

Never leave the house without it, even through the ceiling.

6 Check Your Compact

Powder your nose before the hatch opens.

NOTES

If there is time, leave a note for your husband: 'Casserole in the oven. Back soon.'

IMPORTANT

Never get beamed up in your slippers. You will regret it.

HOW TO

ESCAPING A TRACTOR BEAM WITH THE VACUUM CLEANER

SKILL 49 · UNUSUAL SITUATIONS · 10 MINUTES · HARD

Housewives know the vacuum cleaner is the most powerful machine in the house. Turned the right way, it can pull you right back out of a tractor beam.

1

Grab the Vacuum

It is always nearby. Housewives keep it close.

2

Plug It In

Use the long cord. You may float a ways.

3

Point It Down

Hose aimed at the floor.

4

Turn It On High

The suction will pull you right back to the rug.

5

Hold the Doorframe

Once you're down, hang on.

6

Vacuum Up the Beam

While you're at it, suck up the last of it. It leaves dust.

NOTES

This also works on the children when they won't come down from the tree house.

IMPORTANT

Empty the bag outdoors. Beam dust floats.

MATERIALS

- An upright vacuum cleaner

- A long extension cord

- A sturdy doorframe

- A neighbor's phone number

- Courage

HOW TO

LIVING THROUGH A SHRINK RAY

SKILL 50 · UNUSUAL SITUATIONS · ONE DAY · HARD

One zap and suddenly the kitchen table is a mountain and the cat is a tiger. Don't despair. It wears off in a day, and in the meantime there is plenty you can do.

MATERIALS

A thimble (for a stool)

A matchbox (for a bed)

A handkerchief

A crumb of cake

A loud whistle

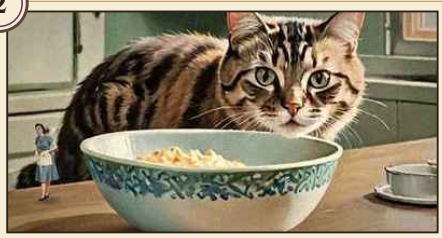

1

Find Your Feet

Everything is enormous. Take a deep breath.

2

Avoid the Cat

Hide behind the sugar bowl.

3

Climb Down Carefully

Use the tablecloth like a rope.

4

Make a Bed

A matchbox with a handkerchief is very snug.

5

Eat a Crumb

One cake crumb is a whole meal now.

6 Wait for It to Wear Off

Read a postage stamp. Count the floor tiles.

NOTES

While you're small, look under the refrigerator. You'll find three earrings and the missing spoon.

IMPORTANT

Stay out of the path of the vacuum cleaner!

HOW TO

WHEN A FORTY-FOOT VISITOR SITS ON THE HOUSE

SKILL 51 · UNUSUAL SITUATIONS · AN AFTERNOON · HARD

Some visitors are very large and very tired. If one decides your house is a good place to sit, here is how to persuade it to move without hurting its feelings or your roof.

1

Step Out Front
Look up. Way up.

2

Use the Bullhorn
Speak sweetly. 'Excuse me, dear!'

3

Offer a Pie
Wave it under its nose. Pies move mountains.

4

Point to the Park
A big open field is much more comfortable.

5

Spray the Hose
A light misting, if it won't budge.

6

Check the Gutters
Then telephone a roofer.

NOTES

Giants are often shy. Don't point and laugh, even if the neighbors are.

IMPORTANT

Never let the children climb on it.

MATERIALS

- A bullhorn

- A giant pie

- A ladder

- A bedsheet (for a napkin)

- A garden hose

HOW TO

TALKING DOWN THE GALACTIC OVERLORD

SKILL 52 · UNUSUAL SITUATIONS · 1 HOUR · HARD

Sooner or later you will meet the one in charge. He will be bigger, louder and wearing a cape. Don't be intimidated. You have handled the PTA president.

MATERIALS

Your best dress

A pot roast

A firm handshake

A list of demands (yours)

A cup of tea

1

Dress Your Best

Pearls. Always pearls.

2

Bring a Pot Roast

Nobody plans an invasion over pot roast.

3

Meet His Gaze

All of it.

4

Pour the Tea

Ask if he takes sugar.

5

State Your Terms

No more landing on lawns. Visits on weekends only. Wipe your feet.

6 Ask for Your Dish Back

A deal is a deal, and that was your good roasting pan.

NOTES

Leaders are lonely. A little sympathy goes a long way.

IMPORTANT

Don't sit on the throne, even if he offers.

HOW TO

FIXING A SAUCER THAT CRASHED IN THE GARDEN

SKILL 53 · UNUSUAL SITUATIONS · 2 HOURS · MEDIUM

Not all visitors are good drivers. If one crashes into the vegetable patch, you can send it on its way with a few things from the kitchen drawer.

1

Check for Injuries

Knock on the dome and ask if everyone is all right.

2

Pull Off the Vines

Many saucers get tangled in the beans.

3

Patch the Dent

Bubble gum works wonders on space metal.

4

Fix the Wiring

A bobby pin fits any panel.

5

Give It a Push

Like a stalled Buick.

6

Wave as It Wobbles Off

It may come back for the tomatoes.

NOTES

Keep a spare bobby pin in your apron. Every machine in the galaxy takes one.

IMPORTANT

Fix the engine, not the ray gun.

MATERIALS

- A toolbox

- Bubble gum

- Twine

- A bobby pin

- A tomato (to replace the squashed one)

HOW TO

VISITING THE MOTHERSHIP

SKILL 54 · UNUSUAL SITUATIONS · AN EVENING · HARD

If you are invited aboard, go. It is the social event of the century. Bring a hostess gift, wear comfortable shoes and remember everything for the bridge club.

MATERIALS

A hostess gift (a pie)

White gloves

Comfortable shoes

A camera

A notebook

1

Reply Promptly
Write a note and leave it on the lawn.

2

Pick Your Gift
A pie. Always a pie.

3

Ride Up the Beam
Hold on to your hat.

4

Take the Tour
Admire everything, especially the kitchen.

5

Take a Snapshot
Nobody at the bridge club will believe you.

6 Thank Your Hosts
A handwritten note the very next day.

NOTES

Ask for the recipe of anything you eat. Their pudding is said to be divine.

IMPORTANT

Don't push any buttons. One of them is Ohio.

CHAPTER NINE

9

PEACE BETWEEN THE PLANETS

Making friends across the galaxy, one casserole at a time

In the end, every invasion turns into a neighborhood. The visitors stay, the saucers get parked in garages, and the Hendersons' new friend from Neptune joins the bowling league. This last chapter is about the best part: making friends. Because whatever planet you come from, everybody likes a good meal, a warm welcome and a neighbor who waves.

IN THIS CHAPTER

55 Throwing a Welcome-to-the-Neighborhood Potluck
56 Teaching an Alien to Dance at the Sock Hop
57 Swapping Recipes Across the Galaxy
58 Hosting a Plastic Container Party for the Visitors
59 Writing to a Pen Pal on Mars
60 Waving Goodbye at the Launch Pad

HOW TO

THROWING A WELCOME-TO-THE-NEIGHBORHOOD POTLUCK

SKILL 55 · PEACE BETWEEN THE PLANETS · A DAY · MEDIUM

The fastest way to end an invasion is to invite everybody to supper. Long tables, lots of casseroles and a sign that says 'All Welcome'.

MATERIALS

- Long folding tables

- Invitations for every house and saucer

- A big casserole

- Paper lanterns

- Lemonade

1

Send Invitations
To every house and every saucer.

2

Set Up the Tables
End to end, right down the street.

Hang the Lanterns
Paper lanterns look lovely at dusk.

3

4

Lay Out the Food
Casseroles, gelatin, deviled eggs and three kinds of pie.

5

Welcome Every Guest
Hand out plates and paper napkins.

6

Toast the New Neighbors
Raise your lemonade.

NOTES

Label the dishes. Visitors are very curious about what goes into a casserole.

IMPORTANT

Put the gelatin far from the blobs, in case of family reunions.

HOW TO

TEACHING AN ALIEN TO DANCE AT THE SOCK HOP

SKILL 56 · PEACE BETWEEN THE PLANETS · AN EVENING · EASY

Rock and roll is a universal language, and every visitor is eager to learn the twist. Some have more feet than others, which helps.

1

Clear the Floor
Roll up the rug.

2

Put On a Record
Something with a good beat.

3

Show the Basic Step
Step, step, rock back.

MATERIALS

A record player

Rock and roll records

Bobby socks

A polished floor

Punch

4

Count the Feet
Each one needs to know where to go.

5

Try the Twist
Visitors are naturals.

NOTES

Teach them the hand jive. They have plenty of hands.

IMPORTANT

Mind the slow dance. Some visitors squeeze.

6 Serve the Punch
Dancing is thirsty work.

HOW TO

SWAPPING RECIPES ACROSS THE GALAXY

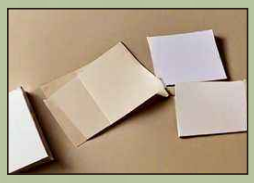

SKILL 57 · PEACE BETWEEN THE PLANETS · 1 HOUR · EASY

MATERIALS

- A recipe box

- Blank index cards

- A pen

- A measuring cup

- An open mind

Visitors have recipes too, and some of them are delicious. Trading recipe cards is the friendliest kind of diplomacy there is.

1

Bring Out Your Recipe Box

Your best: meatloaf, pie and the famous casserole.

2

Write Out a Card

Neat handwriting. They are still learning to read.

3

Receive Theirs

It may glow. That is normal.

4

Try It Together

Follow every step, even the strange ones.

5

Taste Bravely

A small spoonful. Nod thoughtfully.

6

File It Away

Under S, for Space.

NOTES

Nebula pudding goes beautifully with vanilla ice cream.

IMPORTANT

If a recipe calls for 'one moon', use a grapefruit.

HOW TO

HOSTING A PLASTIC CONTAINER PARTY FOR THE VISITORS

SKILL 58 · PEACE BETWEEN THE PLANETS · AN AFTERNOON · EASY

Nothing brings neighbors together like plastic containers with lids that burp. Visitors, who have never seen a lid that seals, are astonished.

1

Lay Out the Samples

Arrange the colors in a rainbow. Visitors love rainbows.

2

Demonstrate the Burp

Press the lid and lift one corner. Pffft.

3

Let Them Try

They will want to do it a hundred times.

MATERIALS

A catalog

Sample containers

Order forms

Coffee cake

A door prize

4

Serve Coffee Cake

Store the leftovers in a sample. Very clever.

5

Take the Orders

Visitors buy in bulk. Very big bulk.

NOTES

They use the containers to carry leftovers back to their home planet. Very thrifty.

IMPORTANT

Never let a blob demonstrate the seal from the inside.

6 Award the Door Prize

A big bowl with a lid.

HOW TO

WRITING TO A PEN PAL ON MARS

SKILL 59 · PEACE BETWEEN THE PLANETS · 30 MINUTES · EASY

When the visitors go home, keep in touch. A letter a month keeps a friendship warm across thirty-five million miles.

MATERIALS

- Nice writing paper

- A fountain pen

- Envelopes

- Lots of stamps

- A photograph of the family

1

Start With the Weather
'It is sunny here. Is it dusty there?'

2

Share the News
Report the bake sale results in full.

3

Enclose a Photograph
So they remember your face.

4

Stamp It Heavily
Mars is a long way. Use the whole sheet.

5

Mail It
The mailman will give you a funny look. Smile.

6

Read the Reply
It may arrive by meteor. Check the yard.

NOTES

Ask them to send a recipe in every letter.

IMPORTANT

Don't open envelopes that are ticking.

HOW TO

WAVING GOODBYE AT THE LAUNCH PAD

SKILL 60 · PEACE BETWEEN THE PLANETS · AN AFTERNOON · EASY

All good visits come to an end. When it's time for your new friends to go home, give them a proper Earth send-off: pie, hugs and a great deal of waving.

1

Bake One More Pie
For the road.

2

Pack the Leftovers
In plastic containers, naturally.

3

Walk to the Saucer
Slowly. Make it last.

MATERIALS

A pie for the road

A handkerchief

A thermos of coffee

The whole family

A promise to write

4

Hand Over the Pie
Say 'Come back soon.'

5

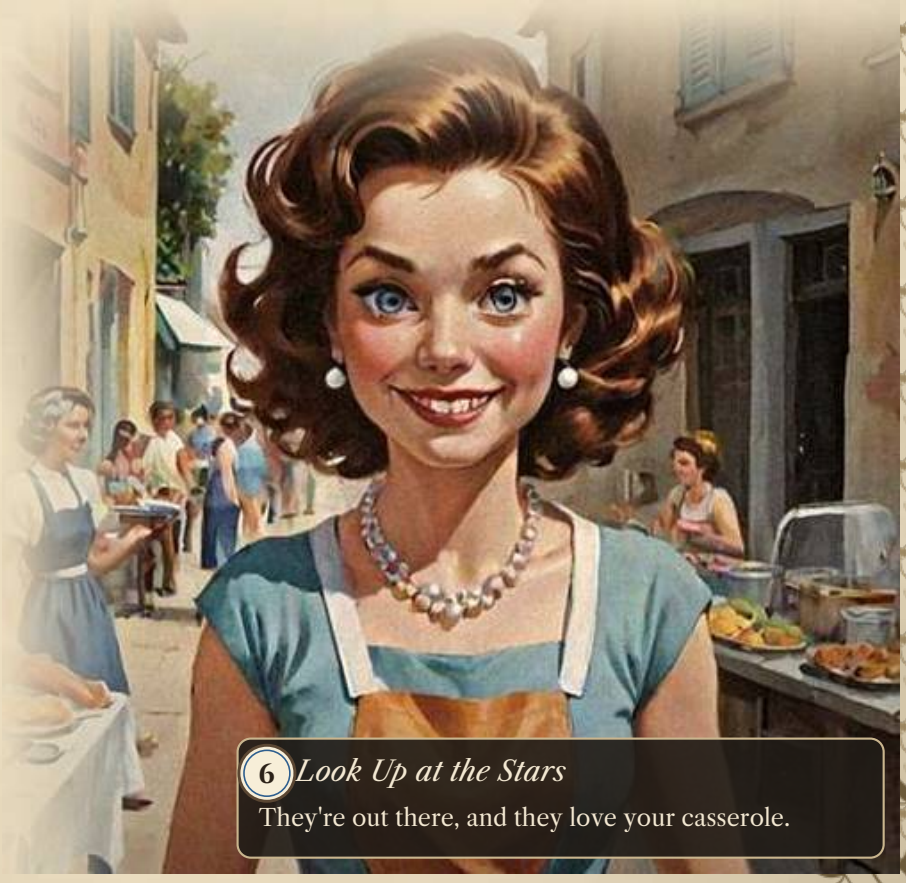

Wave Your Handkerchief
Until it's just a dot.

NOTES

Leave the porch light on. You never know who might drop by.

IMPORTANT

Never promise to visit them. It's a very long trip, and nobody up there has heard of a rest stop.

6 Look Up at the Stars
They're out there, and they love your casserole.

APPENDIX

Charts, checklists and quick references

A. FIELD GUIDE TO VISITORS

Who you are likely to meet, where they come from and the friendliest response. Sightings increase sharply on warm Tuesday evenings.

VISITOR	FROM	LOOKS LIKE	FAVORITE FOOD	WHAT TO DO
Glorpian	Planet Glorp	Green, eyes on stalks	Tuna casserole	Offer a plate
Purple Blob	The Blob Nebula	One huge eyeball	Green gelatin	Hide the gelatin
Brainiac	Mercury	Brain in a glass dome	Meatloaf	Lose at bridge
Fuzzle	The Fuzz Belt	Orange shag, six eyes	Cookies	Brush it outdoors
Octopod	Neptune	Teal, many tentacles	Fruit cocktail	Lay a rubber mat
Peeper	Pluto	Pink, covered in eyes	Mashed potatoes	Make eye contact
Snorkeler	Saturn's rings	Striped, trunk nose	Frying pans	Hide the toaster
Space pet	Varies	Six legs, glows	Your lawn	Use a leash
Galactic Overlord	The mothership	Cape, many eyes	Pot roast	Pour him tea

B. FEEDING CHART

What to serve each visitor, meal by meal. Portions are for one guest; double them for anything with more than one mouth.

GUEST	BREAKFAST	LUNCH	SUPPER	NEVER SERVE
Glorpian	Pancakes	Tuna salad	Casserole	Escargot
Purple Blob	Oatmeal	Jell-O salad	More Jell-O	Its cousin
Brainiac	Toast	Egg salad	Meatloaf	Brain food
Fuzzle	Muffins	Cookies	Cookies	Anything sticky
Octopod	Fruit cocktail	Clam chowder	Fish sticks	Calamari
Snorkeler	Bottle caps	A hubcap	Old pots	Your good silver
Small visitors	One crumb	Half a pea	A drop of gravy	Anything bigger

C. CHECKLISTS

Copy these pages and tick items off as you get ready. Check the foil supply and the hairspray every week.

INVASION EMERGENCY KIT

- ☐ Six rolls of aluminum foil
- ☐ A full invasion pantry (see Chapter 2)
- ☐ A hand can opener
- ☐ Hairspray (extra hold)
- ☐ A headscarf
- ☐ A quilted pot holder
- ☐ An upright vacuum cleaner and a long cord
- ☐ A whistle
- ☐ Rubber gloves and vinegar
- ☐ A wooden table radio
- ☐ A spare bobby pin
- ☐ A good sense of humor

BEFORE THE VISITORS COME TO SUPPER

- ☐ Count the arms (and the forks)
- ☐ Lay the rubber mat
- ☐ Make a gelatin mold
- ☐ Bake a tuna casserole
- ☐ Hide the toaster
- ☐ Put mints by the door
- ☐ Choose three safe topics
- ☐ Fill the plant mister
- ☐ Wrap a plate of leftovers

MOTHERSHIP OVERNIGHT BAG

- ☐ A pie (hostess gift)
- ☐ White gloves
- ☐ Comfortable shoes
- ☐ A compact mirror
- ☐ A box camera
- ☐ A notebook for the bridge club
- ☐ A note for your husband
- ☐ A toothbrush
- ☐ A sweater (it's cold up there)
- ☐ Your handbag

D. HOUSEHOLD REMEDIES FOR SPACE STAINS

Every visitor leaves something behind. Test each remedy on a hidden corner first, and always wear rubber gloves around anything that glows.

STAIN OR SPILL	REMEDY	NOTES
Green slime	Vinegar and water	Blot, never rub
Purple slime	Club soda	Works on grape juice too
Glowing puddles	Baking soda paste	Clean with the lights off
Scorch marks	Fresh white bread	Rub gently on wallpaper
Frost from a freeze ray	Hair dryer on medium	Lay towels first
Moon dust	Damp cloth	Never the vacuum
Orange fur	Lint brush	Brush the guest outdoors
Tentacle prints	Floor wax	Buff in circles
Beam dust	Open the windows	It floats away
Gelatin on the ceiling	A long-handled mop	Ask the guest to stop bouncing
Ray-gun burn on a tablecloth	Lemon juice and sun	Or a nice centerpiece
Mystery goo	Rubber gloves	Do not taste

E. HANDY INVASION CONVERSIONS

MEASURE	ROUGHLY EQUALS
1 flying saucer	The size of the Hendersons' lawn
1 mothership	About 300 saucers, or Cleveland
1 tentacle	3 forks at dinner
1 tuna casserole	Feeds 40 mouths, or 1 Glorpian
1 green gelatin mold	Ends 1 invasion, usually
1 tractor beam	About 2 minutes of floating
1 shrink ray	Makes you the size of a thimble for a day
1 light-year	A very long drive with the children
1 Martian year	About 2 Earth years of visiting
1 roll of aluminum foil	Covers 1 window, ruffle included
1 warm welcome	Priceless

F. HOUSEHOLD INVASION CARD

Fill this in together and pin a copy by the telephone and inside the pantry door.

Household name
Date the first saucer was spotted Saucers on our street (count)
Our safe room is the
Our emergency casserole
Tinfoil is kept in Hairspray is kept in
Our visitor's name
Number of its eyes
Its favorite food
Next potluck date
Days until they go home

IMPORTANT NUMBERS

Emergency	911
The radio station
My husband's office
The bridge club
The beauty parlor
The church hall
Neighbor (human) Neighbor (visitor)

G. GLOSSARY

Abduction. Being invited aboard a saucer without being asked first. Very rude.

Antennae. The feelers on top of many visitors' heads. Never use them as a hat rack.

Beam. A glowing column of light from a saucer. Floats people, cars and casseroles.

Crop circle. A pattern pressed into a garden by a landing saucer. A visitor's calling card.

Flying saucer. A round, shiny craft from another world. Often parked on the wrong lawn.

Freeze ray. A gadget that frosts whatever it points at. Thaw with a hair dryer.

Gelatin mold. A wobbly dessert that visitors adore. Some think it is family.

Glorpian. A green visitor with three eyes on stalks. Loves tuna casserole.

Hatch. The door of a saucer. Knock before polishing.

Light-year. The distance light travels in a year. Too far to borrow a cup of sugar.

Martian. A visitor from Mars. Also, loosely, any visitor at all.

Mothership. The very large saucer where the important visitors live.

Overlord. The visitor in charge. Wears a cape. Weak spot: pot roast.

Ray gun. A visitor's tool, mostly used by accident. Keep it in the saucer.

Shrink ray. A ray that makes you very small for about a day.

Slime. What some visitors leave behind. Blot, never rub.

Tentacle. A long, bendy arm. Count them before setting the table.

Tinfoil. Aluminum foil. Confuses alien instruments and brightens any room.

H. WHERE TO LEARN MORE

- The night sky: your public library has friendly books on the stars and planets. Learn where the visitors come from.
- Home economics: the cookbook shelf at the library. Every new recipe is a new friend.
- Meeting your neighbors: church suppers, block parties and the PTA. Go to all of them, and bring a casserole.
- Staying calm: a cup of tea, a comfortable chair and fifteen minutes with the radio off.
- Stargazing: a blanket on the lawn on a clear night. Wave if anything waves back.

INDEX

A

abduction 36, 68
Anchoring the Station Wagon Against Tractor Beams 26
Answering the Door to an Alien 30

B

babies 54
babysitting 54
Babysitting a Baby From Beyond 54
baking 42
Baking a Welcome-to-Earth Cake 42 barking 56 basement 23 beauty parlor 61 bedtime 57
beige 28
Being Beamed Up With Your Hair Still Set 68 board games 23
books 62 bowling 65 bridge 33
Bringing a Visitor to the PTA Meeting 63
bulletins 17
Buying a Hat for a Head Shaped Like That 66

C cake 42 calm 19

Calming a Dog Who Barks at Saucers 56 can opener 22 canned goods 22 cards 33 carpet 45 casserole 38 cats 70 celebrations 42 checklists 83 children 19, 53, 57 china 25 chores 50 chrome 48 church 64
Church Picnic With Unexpected Guests 64 coffee 35 conversation 32 cookies 19 cooking 78 costumes 58 crash 73 crop circles 16 curlers 61 curtains 21

D

dancing 77
defrosting 49
Defrosting the Kitchen After a Freeze Ray 49 department store 66 desserts 39 dinner 40 diplomacy 40 disguise 28 disguises 15, 18 dogs 56 doorbell 30

E

emergency kit 83 errands 60, 62
escape 69
Escaping a Tractor Beam With the Vacuum Cleaner 69
Explaining Aliens at Bedtime 57

F

Feeding a Visitor Who Eats Metal 43 feeding chart 82
field guide 82

Finding a Crop Circle in the Petunias 16
Fixing a Saucer That Crashed in the Garden 73 flamingos 28 flying saucers 14 footprints 15 forks 31 freeze ray 49 friendship 78, 81 furniture 34

G garden 16, 24, 73

gelatin 39
Getting Alien Slime Out of the Carpet 45
Getting Ray-Gun Scorch Marks Off the Wallpaper . 51
Getting Your Hair Set Next to a Martian 61 giants 71 goodbyes 36, 81 greetings 30 grocery shopping 60
Grocery Shopping During an Invasion 60

H hair 61 hair dryer 49 hairspray 68

Halloween 58
Hanging Tinfoil Curtains 21 hats 66 helpers 50 hostess 30 hostess gifts 74
Hosting a Bridge Party With Visitors 33
Hosting a Plastic Container Party for the Visitors . . 79 husband 18

I

invasion card 85 invitations 74
ironing 46
Is That Really Your Husband? 18

K

keeping aliens 53
Keeping the Household Calm 19
Keeping the Lawn Saucer-Free 27

L landing 27 large guests 34

Laundering a Space Suit 46 laundry 46, 50 lawn 27 league night 65
League Night With a Tentacled Bowler 65
leash 55
leftovers 36, 79 letters 80 library 62
Living Through a Shrink Ray 70
lullabies 54 lunch 41

M

Making Small Talk With a Martian 32
Making the Basement Shelter Cozy 23
Making Your House Look Boring From Above . . . 28 manners 35 marigolds 24
Mars 80
Martians 32
meatloaf 18, 40
Meatloaf Diplomacy 40 meetings 63 metal 43 milkman 15 molds 39
mothership 74

N negotiation 72 neighbors 76 news 17

O

overlord 72

P

Packing a Lunch for a Long Space Voyage 41 pantry 22
parties 33, 76, 79
Peacekeeping Green Gelatin Mold 39 pen pals 80 pets 53, 55, 56 petunias 16 picnic 64 pie 81 pie tins 14 pies 71
Planting an Alien-Repelling Marigold Border 24 plastic containers 79 polishing 48
Polishing a Flying Saucer 48
pot holders 25
pot roast 72 potluck 64, 76
PTA 63
Putting a Many-Armed Visitor to Work 50

R radio 17

ray guns 25, 51
Ray-Proofing the Good China 25 rays 21 recipes 38, 78, 82 remedies 84 repairs 73 repelling 24 rock and roll 77 roof 71 rope 26

S

sandwiches 41 saucer 48
Saying Goodbye Without Being Abducted 36 school 63 scorch marks 51
seating 34
Seating a Guest Who Won't Fit on the Sofa 34
serving 35
Serving Coffee to Something With No Mouth 35
Setting the Table for a Guest With Seven Arms . . . 31
sewing 58
Sewing a Halloween Costume Nobody Will Question 58 shelter 23 shopping 66 shrink ray 70 sightings 14 slime 45 small 70 small aliens 47 small talk 32 sock hop 77 space suits 46 sports 65
Spotting a Flying Saucer 14
sprinklers 27 stains 45, 84 station wagon 26
Stocking the Invasion Pantry 22 stories 57 supermarket 60
Swapping Recipes Across the Galaxy 78

T

table setting 31
Taking a Visitor to the Public Library 62
Talking Down the Galactic Overlord 72
Teaching an Alien to Dance at the Sock Hop 77
Telling an Alien From the Milkman 15
tentacles 31

Throwing a Welcome-to-the-Neighborhood Potluck 76
tinfoil 21 toaster 43 tractor beams 26, 68, 69 travel 41
tuna 38
Tuna Casserole for Forty Mouths 38

U

Understanding the Radio Bulletin 17 unusual diets 43

V vacuum cleaner 47, 69

vacuuming 47
Vacuuming Up a Very Small Alien (and Letting It Out) 47
Visiting the Mothership 74 visitors 82

W

walking 55
Walking a Space Pet 55
wallpaper 51
Waving Goodbye at the Launch Pad 81
When a Forty-Foot Visitor Sits on the House 71
When Junior Brings One Home 53
Writing to a Pen Pal on Mars 80

MY SKILLS LOG

Tick off each skill once your household has done it. Visitors may not tick their own boxes.

#	SKILL	DATE TRIED	DONE
01	Spotting a Flying Saucer		☐
02	Telling an Alien From the Milkman		☐
03	Finding a Crop Circle in the Petunias		☐
04	Understanding the Radio Bulletin		☐
05	Is That Really Your Husband?		☐
06	Keeping the Household Calm		☐
07	Hanging Tinfoil Curtains		☐
08	Stocking the Invasion Pantry		☐
09	Making the Basement Shelter Cozy		☐
10	Planting an Alien-Repelling Marigold Border		☐
11	Ray-Proofing the Good China		☐
12	Anchoring the Station Wagon Against Tractor Beams		☐
13	Keeping the Lawn Saucer-Free		☐
14	Making Your House Look Boring From Above		☐
15	Answering the Door to an Alien		☐
16	Setting the Table for a Guest With Seven Arms		☐
17	Making Small Talk With a Martian		☐
18	Hosting a Bridge Party With Visitors		☐
19	Seating a Guest Who Won't Fit on the Sofa		☐
20	Serving Coffee to Something With No Mouth		☐
21	Saying Goodbye Without Being Abducted		☐
22	Tuna Casserole for Forty Mouths		☐
23	The Peacekeeping Green Gelatin Mold		☐
24	Meatloaf Diplomacy		☐
25	Packing a Lunch for a Long Space Voyage		☐
26	Baking a Welcome-to-Earth Cake		☐
27	Feeding a Visitor Who Eats Metal		☐
28	Getting Alien Slime Out of the Carpet		☐
29	Laundering a Space Suit		☐
30	Vacuuming Up a Very Small Alien (and Letting It Out)		☐
31	Polishing a Flying Saucer		☐
32	Defrosting the Kitchen After a Freeze Ray		☐
33	Putting a Many-Armed Visitor to Work		☐
34	Getting Ray-Gun Scorch Marks Off the Wallpaper		☐
35	When Junior Brings One Home		☐
36	Babysitting a Baby From Beyond		☐
37	Walking a Space Pet		☐
38	Calming a Dog Who Barks at Saucers		☐

#	SKILL	DATE TRIED	DONE
39	Explaining Aliens at Bedtime		☐
40	Sewing a Halloween Costume Nobody Will Question		☐
41	Grocery Shopping During an Invasion		☐
42	Getting Your Hair Set Next to a Martian		☐
43	Taking a Visitor to the Public Library		☐
44	Bringing a Visitor to the PTA Meeting		☐
45	A Church Picnic With Unexpected Guests		☐
46	League Night With a Tentacled Bowler		☐
47	Buying a Hat for a Head Shaped Like That		☐
48	Being Beamed Up With Your Hair Still Set		☐
49	Escaping a Tractor Beam With the Vacuum Cleaner		☐
50	Living Through a Shrink Ray		☐
51	When a Forty-Foot Visitor Sits on the House		☐
52	Talking Down the Galactic Overlord		☐
53	Fixing a Saucer That Crashed in the Garden		☐
54	Visiting the Mothership		☐
55	Throwing a Welcome-to-the-Neighborhood Potluck		☐
56	Teaching an Alien to Dance at the Sock Hop		☐
57	Swapping Recipes Across the Galaxy		☐
58	Hosting a Plastic Container Party for the Visitors		☐
59	Writing to a Pen Pal on Mars		☐
60	Waving Goodbye at the Launch Pad		☐

NOTES

Saucers spotted, casseroles served, slime removed, and the names of every visitor you have fed.

THE BOOK EVERY AMERICAN HOMEMAKER NEEDS

It starts with a hum over the backyard. By lunchtime there is a crop circle in the petunias, a milkman with three eyes and something large and purple on the Hendersons' lawn. All across America the saucers are landing, and almost no one knows what to serve them.

The Housewife's Guide to Alien Invasions is here to help: sixty sensible skills, each laid out on a single page with a picture for every step, a materials panel and notes on what can go wrong. Tabs on every page help you find what you need, even while a tractor beam is lifting the station wagon.

INSIDE YOU WILL LEARN HOW TO

- Tell an alien from the milkman
- Hang tinfoil curtains
- Seat a guest with seven arms
- Make the peacekeeping gelatin mold
- Get slime out of the carpet
- Babysit a baby from beyond
- Get your hair set next to a Martian
- Escape a tractor beam with the vacuum
- Talk down the Galactic Overlord
- Throw a potluck for the whole galaxy

"No invasion ever survived a second helping."
OLD KITCHEN SAYING

THE HOUSEWIFE'S GUIDE TO ALIEN INVASIONS
Home / Outer Space / Humor

FUN BOOKS · HOME EDITION